Speaker Biographies

Aaron Bartell - directs hands-on application development services using open source technologies for companies running on IBM i. Through consulting engagements, Aaron jump-starts development initiatives while serving as an extension of internal development teams. Aaron facilitates adoption of open source technologies through internal staff training, speaking engagements at conferences, and the authoring of best practices within IBM i industry publications and www.litmis.com. As Director of IBM i Innovation for Kregeltech, Aaron pursues initiatives which enable IBM i shops to embrace today's leading technologies including Ruby on Rails, Node.js, and Git.

Robin Tatam - Robin is a CISM with two decades of AS/400 and IBM i consulting experience. He has a strong midrange background that includes programming in RPG and advanced CL, web enablement using CGI and IBM refacing products, as well as systems administration. An IBM-certified technical consultant, Robin conducts technical presentations online and at user group meetings, including COMMON, where he is a subject matter expert. He has written numerous articles for leading trade journals and was the co-author of the IBM Redbook, "IBM System i Security: Protecting i5/OS Data with Encryption."
